The model is made up of components in chronological order. The higher is the sieve the better chance we have access to the data resource. The model will assign weight to each line of direction. The final output is the triples with the highest possibility for every role of authors.